EVERYBODY OUT TODAY WITH ROOTERS

Two Thousand Men Expected to Line Up.
UNION AT 4.30.

Tickets Sold Cater to Marchers Only.

To-day is going to give the lusty lugged lads of old McGill a chance to show the team what kind of support it can expect in Saturday's games. It is going to be the toughest one of the year, but—and there is always a but—there is also no doubt that Queen's is up against the strongest team that has represented McGill on the football field since 1919.

No team though, is infallible, and it is up to the Thundering Thousand to help keep the morale of the team up to the highest pitch. The slogan for Saturday is "Beat Queen's." Everyone knows the team is going to do its best, a good turnout of Rooters for the practice at the Stadium will show the team that the undergraduate body is going to do its best. If the team gets the right kind of support it cannot lose. This year if the Red and White suffers even temporary defeat, it must be of the superiority of the opposing team, not due to the lack of support of every undergraduate in college. Students are not asked to come out to rooters practice—every man must feel it his duty to his Alma Mater to cheer on the team representing Old McGill.

The Band had a most successful practice at the Union yesterday, and the Rooters Club will have a bigger and better band than ever before. There is always room for more, so anyone who did not get out yesterday can still join up to-day. There are arrangements being made to hire a bandmaster to train the bandmen and it is hoped he will be on hand for this afternoon's practice. There are a number of Saxophone players in the band this year but there is still room for more. McGill ought to have a band of about 35 or 40 men.

These figures are startling—there are 160 men connected with the Red & White football squads—last night barely more rooters than that were at the practice. The football men give all their time—the rooters' not over an hour a day. The graduates are turning out in every way to help the team. Now the rest remains with the undergrads. Every man can make time to attend rooters' practice. Lately only a few of the men of the first two years have turned out with a remarkable dearth of men from the upper years. To-day the leaders in every department in college—plus all the freshmen—will be on hand, and every undergrad, not out should slink away for very shame.

This year it is going to be "Everybody Out!" It has got to be! Everybody is expected at the Union at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon. The Rooters will parade up to the Stadium and there a practice will be held while the first battle the seconds.

No one will be admitted to the Stadium who has not marched up from the Union. After the practice Rooters tickets will be sold for Saturday's game for 50¢ a ticket. Those playing in the band get in free.

CHINESE STUDENTS PLAN CELEBRATION

Chinese students in Ann Arbor are planning to celebrate their nation's Independence Day, October 10, with a banquet and public entertainment, under the direction of the Chinese Students' club. This will probably be held in the Methodist church and Wesley Hall.

The principal speaker of the evening will probably be President Marion L. Burton, who will talk either at the banquet or during the evening. Another speaker will be either a local or out-of-town Chinese student who will give the history of the republic from its foundation.

During the evening's entertainment there is planned a one-act play, given in Chinese costume but in English tongue, by the members of the club. Other acts illustrating Chinese customs will also be on the program. The entertainment will be free and open to the general public. Prominent professors and others interested in China will be invited by the club to attend the banquet, which is for the members alone.

DAILY RECRUITS.

More men are required to bring the "Daily" staff up to its required strength. To freshmen particularly the work should hold out inducements, as the field of promotions is unrestricted. The managing editor will be in the office in the basement of the Union this noon between one and one-twenty o'clock, to meet new men.

TO INITIATE ALL FROSH THOROUGHLY

Freshmen Regalia on Sale
To-day.

NO ONE SPARED,

Cap Burning in November
Will End Hazing.

Freshmen will undergo a properly organized and thorough, but not overly strenuous initiation, according to the plans drafted at the meeting of the sophomore presidents which took place yesterday evening in the reading room of the Union. The rules to which those at McGill for the first time, will be subjected to appear elsewhere in this issue; observance of them will be strictly enforced and they will remain in favour until the first of November, their continuance after that date depending upon the ability of the freshmen to complete the arrangements necessary to ensure the holding of all the freshmen sophomore banquets upon the same evening. For it was decreed last evening that such must be, and that these banquets would immediately succeed a cap burning festival to take place on the old campus, which would mark the official cessation of hostilities between the two classes. The programme outlined by the sophomores was to the effect that the various classes would line up after the second year men had supervised the process of incineration, following which the different faculties would march down to their various banqueting halls.

One matter which was emphatically stressed was that there would be certain days of grace during which there would be no attempt at hazing on the part of the senior men—these periods of intermission being all rooters' practices, all sports days and all rugby games—and in this category falls likewise, of course, the "Pep Rally" scheduled for tomorrow night. On these occasions the wary frosh may feel himself secure from any raids by the wily sophs, although the regulations applying to the conduct of freshmen will in no wise be suspended. Rowdiness is not to be condoned, neither by the Students' Council nor by the Committee of Sophomore residents. Freshmen will be apt to be rushed during the period of initiation but each president expressed a determination to hold one day in which there would be a general corraling of the new men after which these latter might feel safe in as long as they complied with the aforementioned set of rules drawn up for their benefit and discomfiture.

Any man, it was decided, who has previously taken a course at McGill, whether he be "repeating" or whether he have changed his faculty, will not be listed as a freshman and so not (Continued on page 2)

TO MAKE OBJECT OF UNION KNOWN

Frosh Presidents will Read
Letters to Classes.

In accordance with a decision arrived at by the Union House committee yesterday afternoon, presidents of all freshmen classes will be requested to read letters to their years acquainting them with the various objects and services of the Union. These letters which the committee hopes to distribute shortly will also invoke the wholehearted support of the incoming year.

A request from the Maccabean Circle was received for the use of the Union every second Sunday. This was granted, providing that the dates of the Maccabean meetings do not conflict with the Sunday musicales held at the Union throughout the year. The proposal to purchase new dishes for banquets, instead of renting them was considered favourably and quotations are now being received.

A tentative dance schedule will be drawn up at the next meeting of the House Committee which takes place early next week. It was further decided to encourage the holding of business lunches for different sectional clubs and executives at the Union.

The details of the Pep Rally are well in hand.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1923.

LET ALL FRESHMEN TAKE HEED.

At one o'clock to-day the freshmen rules come into force, and from the solitary stroke of that hour until the day of the cap burning festival each first year man is expected to obey implicitly the laws that have been laid down. And if a miscreant is discovered by the ruling sophomores let him beware, for it is rumoured that the second year court of justice will hand down penalties, which will make the guilty one remember that he is only a lowly member of the first year classes.

In spite of the humorous element in the situation, there is an abundant amount of common sense in the rules published in this issue. Not only will the initiation be systematic and sensible, but the regulation which will be announced will be of actual benefit to the freshmen themselves and to the university as a whole.

Although some of the more sophisticated descendants of Beau Brummel may deem it beneath their dignity to wear the regulation red and white skull cap provided for freshmen. This measure is in reality a boon for the first year classes. It means the springing up of familiarity and friendship, which results inevitably in a spirit of harmony and co-operation. It means that the frosh will get to know each other quickly for those who find themselves in the same predicament have something in common—a grievance or a pleasure—which binds them together. The sophomores, in their turn, will have the joy of decorating their friendly victims and even the second year students will derive a certain amount of pleasure from the sight of a freshman in his compulsory regalia.

After the comparatively small attendance at yesterday's rooters' practice, the rule calling upon all first year men to attend these necessary events is highly commendable. The sedate ones may object to the antics of those who fill the bleachers, but the fact remains that the team needs organized support, and it is time that all freshmen should be acquainted with the proper methods in giving it. A correspondence course in cheering is hopeless and it is a good thing that the sophomores are giving a vigorous series of lectures.

The other rules are tinged also with sound reason and as for the length of durance vile after November 1st., this lies with the freshmen themselves.

The rules have been made. It is up to the freshmen to keep them and it is the solemn duty of the sophs. to see that they are kept. The rest of the student body will watch, either with a smile or a frown, and judgment will be passed when the experiment is completed.

CONDENSED COMMENT.

Yesterday afternoon there were nearly as many men on the football field as there were in the Union for the rooters' practice. This is a state of affairs which should not and must not exist. The new freshmen rule, calling for compulsory attendance at such practices, will undoubtedly boom this afternoon's parade. But this itself will not be enough. Every student is expected to be at the Union for half-past four to-day. The slogan for the week is "Beat Queen's." Back the team and help them realize victory on Saturday.

It is a well known fact that the life of a newspaper depends upon the advertisers. This is as true of The Daily, as of any other publication. We therefore ask our readers to support those who support us. Start the college year well by becoming consistent patrons of those who advertise in these columns.

Coach Shaughnessy is being assisted by many graduates, who fought for the Red and White on the football field during their undergraduate days. The men are doing much and the students heartily appreciate their efforts. The chief mentor's assistants are on the gridiron every day, and they, too, are turning out to "Beat Queen's."

ADDRESS BY SIR ARTHUR THIS FRIDAY

Convocation in R. V. C. for Conferring Degrees.

FOUNDERS' DAY.

Celebration of Birthday of James McGill.

On Friday afternoon a special convocation will be held in the Royal Victoria College for the purpose of conferring degrees and on the same occasion an opening address will be delivered by the principal, Sir Arthur Currie. In recent years it has been the custom to confer a number of degrees on this occasion, and occasionally some honorary degrees are bestowed. This year it is understood that there will be the usual number of degrees, but none of them are honorary.

Last year this convocation was largely attended, and seventeen received degrees. One of these was Sir Charles Sherrington, on whom the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred. Sir Charles is Waynflete professor of Physiology at Oxford University and president of the Royal Society, and he was the speaker of honor on that occasion. The other sixteen degrees were conferred on students in Arts, Commerce, Science, Medicine and Music.

Not only is the convocation to be held, but included in it will be the official celebration of Founder's Day. For years this day has been honored in some special way in commemoration of the birth of James McGill—the great benefactor of the College. Until last year it was usual to have an address by some well-known professor on this day; last year, however, Founder's Day was celebrated on the same day that the convocation and the Principal's address took place, and it appears that this precedent will probably be the beginning of a slightly changed form of celebration.

HARVESTER'S ADVENTURES EXCEPTIONAL

Rumour of Death of S. F.
Blundell Premature

HOME AGAIN

Travelled on Special Train
Wrecked Near Sudbury

The peaceful trend of events at the University was seriously disturbed at ten thirty-two yesterday morning, when Stanley F. Blundell who had not been heard from since he figured in a train wreck near Sudbury on August eighth, appeared on the steps of the Arts Building armed with a thick coat of tan, a kit bag and a sack of number one wheat. It appears that Blundell was one of the fortunates who escaped the accident with nothing more than a rude shock, but as none of his acquaintances heard from him after the mishap, it was not known whether or not he had been injured.

Blundell returned part of the way to Montreal on a cattle train, but at North Bay he was confused by the great similarity between the Toronto and Montreal cattle, and through an error, went with the former. This considerably delayed his arrival at Montreal. "My only regret in this connection," said Stanley, "is that I will have to pay a late registration fee of five dollars."

The wanderer had many interesting pictures to show and stories to tell to the excited crowd which quickly gathered round him. Leaving Bonaventure station with three acquaintances, at midnight of August the seventh on the first harvester's special, Blundell finally arrived a Erma with two friends and a total capital of seventy-five cents for the three of them. The fourth member of their original party had forsaken them at Winnipeg as the accident had been too much adventure for him.

For four day the men worked for nothing more than their keep, but when the crops were ready, there was work enough for all to earn five dollars a day.

The return trip proved as interesting as the work itself. The trio were given free passage on board a cattle train, but at North Bay, Blundell becoming slightly confused, proceeded with the Toronto cattle. Three miles out, the mistake was noticed by one of the trainmen and the brawny harvester was forced to walk back that distance. He really benefitted to a certain degree by the error, as on his return to North Bay, he was given accommodation on the Trans Canada Limited, when that train passed through the town, and arrived at Windsor station shortly after ten yesterday morning, at once making his way to the Arts Building.

"I'll be back on the job again next summer," concluded Blundell, "it's a great life if you don't weaken, besides, my few weeks work netted me over one hundred and twenty-five dollars."

Involved in their misfortune. This category does not, however, include the man who has, perhaps, come here from another university in his first year at McGill and taking lectures with this year's incoming class; he is branded as a freshman unless a special exemption be granted to him. Should he be in one of the upper years it was deemed not advisable to bring him under the ruling.

While infraction of the rules will be rewarded by summons before the Court of Sophomore Presidents, any freshman who feels himself grossly abused may appear before the same tribunal for the purpose of justifying himself. His channel of communication will be through the president of his sophomore year.

ROOTERS OUT.

Students Expected to Attend Rooters Practice at Stadium.

The strength of the McGill Senior Rugby team on paper is not inconsiderable. The team has no outstanding star, yet there are many players trying out whose ability and experience render them of Senior calibre. Since 1919 there has been no year that had a brighter outlook than the present one but the great strength of both the Varsity and Queens teams does not admit of too much optimism. This year the influx of several new players of known ability to the University has given the great Shaughnessy the material for a fairly good team.

The McGill half-line, which has been creditably filled until this year by such men as Flanagan, Russell and Carroll, will now probably be filled by Hanna, Little, Hughes, Baker and Gorrin. "Eddie" Hanna, a product of Sarnia Collegiate, will probably be placed at the right half position. His speed and line-plunging will be noticeable on the attack. "Bones" Little, a veteran player, is tricky and swift and will have to be reckoned with in nearly every play. "Gordie" Hughes, this year's importation from R. M. C., is the likely choice for the punting department and his peculiar style of running makes him a hard man to bring down in an open field. "Spuds" Murphy, who subbed on last year's team, will be there to do his share of the work. He is developing very nicely. Two other men have been showing very well in this department. They are Gorrin of last year's juniors, and Baker the former R. M. C. star.

The quarter-back job is being filled at present by Philipotts and he handles the plays in masterful fashion. His experience should be invaluable in the Intercollegiate series. Two other quarter-backs, Gordon and Mickles are being given considerable attention by the coaches, and will no doubt be given their chance with the big team.

In the snap division Captain "Doug" MacGregor is showing his usual good form. MacGregor is a veteran of several years and will be great in his steady influence on the team. In Norris he has an understudy whose ability has been amply demonstrated at the Stadium practices.

The wing-line, while not so heavy as last year's, is showing good offensive and defensive work. In Woodruff and Manson, the middle-wing positions are well filled. They are hard fighters and always give the opposing line a great deal to worry over. Starke and Amaron will probably be chosen for insides. Both these players have had considerable experience, and under the new rules they have a healthy job in running interference. For substitutes Shaughnessy has Newton, Walsh, Glasco, and White.

In choosing the men for the outside and flying-wing jobs the coaches are having less difficulty. Out of the many aspirants who claim the end place of the team, there are several outstanding players in Charlie Robertson, Dick Wilson, Campbell Cope, Selby Cope, Amaron and Jack Fife. All these men have speed, experience and fair condition and should show to advantage against Queens. They tackle low and hard and if up to form on Saturday the half-backs of the Tri-color team will have a hard job getting away.

Should McGill be unsuccessful next Saturday there can be no doubt to offer. The general condition of the players is excellent, they know their plays perfectly, and they have the best staff of coaches it is possible to obtain. With an even break in luck, McGill has a good chance to turn back the veteran Queens team, which is called to win again this year.

For the rest of this week all rugby practices will be held in secret. With the exception of the rooters no one will be admitted. To-night at 5.00 P. M. about 2,000 rooters will march from the Union to the Stadium where they will witness a battle between the firsts and seconds. The rooters will be given an opportunity of purchasing rooters tickets to Saturday's game.

Prof: Doesn't it make you sad to see women wearing feathers of poor little birds on their hats?

Married Man: It isn't the feathers that make me sad—it's their bills.

W: I like that prof. in Tennyson, he says things home to you that you've never seen before.

Spoke: I have a Chinese laundryman like that.

University Open Tournament Commences Saturday.

COURTS CROWDED.

Excellent Team to Represent McGill is Promised.

The University tennis tournament opens on Saturday. This is the annual fall tournament which decides very largely the composition of the McGill team which competes for Intercollegiate honors. Lists are posted in the Union and the dressing rooms at the courts which all tennis enthusiasts are expected to sign. McGill has won the Intercollegiate tennis championship for four years running, and hopes to be able to continue the winning streak this year. It is hoped that every man signing up will be ready for a sharp series of games beginning Saturday morning. The entry lists close Thursday night, and the draw for the first round will be published in the "Daily." The first round will begin on all courts Saturday morning, and it is hoped that the finals will be reached by the middle of next week.

Yesterday afternoon every court was filled and many men were waiting for their turn. Leslie and Douglas gave a pretty exhibition of singles but were ragged in spots and tired toward the end of their match. Jack Wright and Ramsey played later. Crocker has not been on the court for several days. Dave Maurice of last year's team has been playing in Switzerland lately, but is expected back in Montreal on Thursday. Jack Frith, the junior champion of the Maritime Provinces is an undergraduate here this year, and is expected to be a strong player in the tournament. Neither Lawrence Brown nor Tom Brown have been much in evidence around the courts this past week. Both men were amongst McGill's strongest players last year and it is hoped they will be out again this year.

Plans are practically completed for the offering of a silver cup to the open champion of the university. Jack Wright, Ramsey, or Douglas are at the courts every afternoon and will be pleased to meet any new players.

THE IMPERIAL

The feature picture this week at the Imperial is the screen portrayal of the recent "Battle of the Age" between Dempsey and the Argentinian challenger Firpo. These pictures which are being shown exclusively at the Imperial are proving a very successful drawing card, and they are well worth the great interest that is being taken in them, as the photography is very good, and with the aid of slow motion pictures, a clear and accurate view of the fight is being obtained. Especially noticeable is the terrific pace which was set by Dempsey and maintained by both fighters from start to finish, and it becomes apparent that after his terrific blow knocking the champion out of the ring, Firpo had for the short remainder of the round an edge on Dempsey to which at no time he was able to attain. Another news picture of exceptional interest is shown. This is a film showing the terrible devastation wrought by the Japanese earthquake, which is also being shown at other houses during the week.

A snappy musical act featuring Vera Bart, a singer and dancer of merit, Saxi Holtsworth, who puffs a mean sax, and a jazz band that can play, heads the vaudeville bill. The Lorner Girls sing and dance daintily, and their prettily staged act wins well deserved applause. Tomer and Day are divertingly amusing in a short skit illustrating what happens when a husband sneezes thirteen times in his wife's hearing. Frazer and Bunce have an amusing line of song and patter that depends for its effectiveness upon their remarkable resemblance to each other. A mystifying conjuring act that keeps his audience mystified, is staged by Arthur Lloyd who earns for himself the well deserved appellation of the "Human Card Index." Songs and dances that include a remarkable exhibition of step dancing, is featured by Potter and Gamble.

LARGEST FRESHMAN CLASS

The largest Freshman class in the history of Harvard University, which yesterday entered upon its 255th year, had enrolled when registration was completed yesterday at 6 o'clock. Statistics at the end of the first day of College this year show a total enrollment of 329 freshmen in the college.

Use Your Throat For Old McGill.

FRESHMEN!

Song books will be on order at the office of the janitors of the various faculty buildings, for Freshmen only, who may upon presentation of their registration card place their order for the price of one dollar. This offer will be closed by six o'clock to-morrow evening, when the song books will be raised again to their usual price of one dollar and a half. The Council is putting before the freshmen this special opportunity; the supply of books is limited, and any intending purchaser would do well to hand in his name at once for this collection of typical McGill songs—an invaluable accessory to a university career, an enviable compilation of student sentiment.

RUGBY BALLS FLY ABOUT OLD CAMPUS

English Rugby Club Turns Out Strong Squad.

Prospects are excellent for a stellar English Rugby team at McGill. There have been excellent turnouts at the practices this week, and the new material has been particularly reassuring. This afternoon a squad of over twenty-five players was out. Many of the old players were on hand, and found that the new men would offer strong bids for positions on the team. It is hoped that a practice game with the Montreal English Rugby Club can be arranged for next Wednesday. The first scheduled match will be on the twentieth of October, either with Toronto or the Montreal English team. Professor T. Mathews is coaching the Red & White squad.

The McTier Cup is held at present by the Montreal English Rugby Club, but McGill intends to make a very strenuous effort to lift it this year.

After the practice, a meeting of the club was held, at which the principal business was the discussion of a trip to the Maritime Provinces this fall. The club members were heartily in favour of satisfactory arrangements could be made. The trip to Toronto was discussed also.

"JOHNNY" EVANS

Queen's Quarterback, who is said to be on the sick list.

OTHER CAMPUSES

CANE SPREE CONTEST

This event, held annually at Princeton, takes place next week, and consists of three bouts between the two lower classes in which the contestants each try to take a hickory cane away from their opponents. The winner of each match is awarded his straight class numerals. There are three groups, the light of weight, middle weight and heavy weight.

LOOK ME OVER, KID!

"Look me over, kid," says the candidate for freshman Queen.

"Look me over, boys," says her campaign manager.

With fresh queen election at the University of Oklahoma less than a week away, courtiers are taking their candidates out of cold storage and marching them up and down the "avenue" for inspection.

"Any support you may give me will be gratefully appreciated," the candidate smiles into the face of an impressionable freshman, and a heart is lost and a vote gained.

Cheer the Boys to Victory.

EXHIBITION JUNIOR GAME THIS FRIDAY

Good Material for Junior and Intermediate Teams.

MANY OUT

Keen Competition for Positions on Teams.

Now that the date for the first senior game with Queen's draws near, and as it is more or less known who will do duty for McGill one can look over the prospects in the junior and intermediate circles.

Yesterday afternoon saw one of the largest turnouts since practices were begun. After tackling the duties for the best part of an hour the candidates for the teams were split into five squads.

The third fourth and fifth squads were put under the guidance of assistant coach Flanagan who instructed them in offensive and defensive formations paying special attention to the line.

After going through the signals Flanagan lined the third squad up against the fourth for a scrimmage practice. The different plays worked well with the line getting low and opening fine holes for the halves to get through for long gains. The second squad then took on the fifth squad who were comparatively fresh and held them throughout the practice.

"FLIN" FLANAGAN

Every man who expects to make a place on either the intermediates or juniors must work hard and be out to every practice owing to the large number of candidates for each position. In addition to a large number of players from last year's teams there are also many men out who have played for various prep schools of considerable repute.

On the half line Thompson, James, Buchanan look good while Gordon at quarter calls the signals well and can hit the line hard. Fairbanks at snap who comes from Ridley shoots the ball out well and is a bear at getting through the opponent's line. On the line, Potter, Tucker, Botterell, Eichelberg, Shore, and Sommerville look good for places on the team.

On Friday a junior team is to be picked to meet Westmount High School seniors. This will be a fine work-out and a real test for the players as Westmount have a fine team with a clever half line.

The schedules for the junior and intermediate and junior leagues have not been drawn up yet, but in all probability will be out in the course of the next few days.

OLD RIVALS TO MEET SATURDAY

Freshmen-Sophomores Track Entries Coming Slowly.

With the annual Freshman-Sophomore Track meet but three days away, the old rivals are preparing to contest every event on the list. There is, however, a noticeable lack of definite entries on the sheets provided for that purpose both in the Union lobby and also in the field house. The reason for this may be that entrants are rather bashful, but such ceremony is unusual in the first two years, and it is far more likely that the location of the entry blanks is unknown to the competitors.

The meet is of peculiar importance this fall, for it is from the new men and the men who have been in college but a year that many of the members of the Intercollegiate Track Team will be chosen. It is recorded elsewhere in this issue just to what extent the team

MANY STUDENTS GET ENGAGED AT COLLEGE

The following article, from the Evergreen, will undoubtedly create widespread interest in local college circles. It has been noted that a somewhat similar situation is prevalent here but no statistics have been issued. The Evergreen states: "Much conjecture and not a little worry has been expended over the engagement problem in college. Statistics prove that a greater per cent of young people become engaged while attending college than while pursuing any other vocation. Profs have greatly lamented this condition, claiming that a young man engaged has neither time nor inclination to study anything except his girl."

"In their researches in this field, endeavoring to ascertain why men in college are particularly susceptible to the 'one girl' disease, the profs have sought too deeply for explanation. They have sunk their prospect hole below the surface of the bedrock, where the gold is lodged. The fields of psychology, philosophy and sociology have been exhausted for a solution which lay within the reach of the humblest student in Econ. 1."

"It was 'Kack' Barnard, not a speculative scientist at all, but a matter-of-fact college registrar with an inclination toward cold statistics, who pointed the way to the light. The fundamental economic law, supply and demand, governs the number of college engagements! As soon as 'Kack' pointed out that only about a third of the students enrolled in Washington State were girls, the rest was easy."

"With the preponderance of men on the campus, it becomes difficult for them all to get dates for every event. Competition waxen keen enough to be disagreeable. Then your enterprising young man anchors a permanent date with his pin and worries no more. Others see how easily he gets by, and the slaughter is on."

"There, you have the whole thing. Simple, isn't it?"

HAWAII FRESHMEN MUST OBEY ORDERS

Students are students, and fresh are fresh the world over. This was brought to light when The Michigan Daily came into possession of a list of the "things freshmen do not do" at the University of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H. The same list appeared in the school paper, "Ka Lee a Hawaii" (The Voice of Hawaii).

The first admonition is, "Don't forget you are fresh and very green—we know, if you don't." The first year men are advised that their presence is not desired in the halls of the main buildings, that they should enter at all times by back ways, and that "though the campus is beautiful and convenient it is not an African golf links. There is to be no smoking in the buildings and all freshmen are to attend the games. A parting injunction to the effect that freshmen should not forget there is a swimming tank for any disobedient fresh frosh."

The entire list abounds in promises of woe untold to offenders of the rules such as being "appropriately dealt with at initiation" and "you will feel it to your sorrow if you do" which are expected to offset the effect of Hawaii moonlight and such evil disturbances that enter into the lives of freshmen at the University of Hawaii.

For years the meet has been one which has brought out latent strength for the team, as well as satisfying the rivalry between the Freshman and the Sophomore years. So far there is little definite known regarding the relative strength of the athletes of the two years. The Sophomores have a team which was able to beat the Sophomores of last year, and for this reason should have some advantage. On the other hand, the Freshmen have a number of experienced men, and always have a few "dark horses." As the entry list fills up, more information will be given in these columns regarding the competitors.

The meet takes place at 10 a.m. Saturday morning, at the Stadium. It is generally held in the afternoon, but the Queen's game is earlier in the season than usual this year.

DIRECTORS GIVE HELP TO ATHLETES

Activity of Athletic Board
During Summer Months.

SOURCE OF AID

Number of Improvements
Made for Coming Session

From the report which Major Stuart Forbes issued yesterday to the "Daily," the Athletic Board appears to have been very active during the summer; a great many questions have been decided and a number of improvements made.

The following comprise the Athletic Board for this year:—Sir Arthur Currie; Dr. A. S. Lamb, Dr. F. Tees; Professor J. Simpson; Dr. A. F. Argue; Mr. A. P. S. Glasco, Amerson; McGregor; and Henry.

The Manager is Major Stuart Forbes. This committee has decided to award large block "M's" to Jack Wright and Willard Crocker for their participation in the Davis Cup Championships which were held at the Mount Royal Courts in this city. Crocker and Wright were eliminated after a courageous struggle, but the Japanese stars Shimidzu and Kashio. The Board was instrumental in sending the football squad up into the mountains at Archambault for the preliminary training which will no doubt be of the greatest value to the teams in the coming games.

The Committee wishes to announce to the members of the Soccer Club that their request for a series of games between Varsity and Queens, at Kingston, has been turned down on the grounds that there has not been a large enough turn out to warrant such a request being granted. However, when more players turn out and more enthusiasm is shown by the men, the directors will be only too pleased to help as much as possible.

In regard to football, it was announced that arrangements are being made for McGill to play Ottawa at Ottawa on Nov. 3rd, and Montreal at the Stadium on Nov. 12th.

A new plan has been inaugurated this year, namely that of issuing season tickets entitling the holder to the same seat in each game, and one point worthy of consideration is that those persons holding season tickets will be given first choice for seats at next year's games. This is something to be taken note of as it will be a great help in coming years as well as a good investment; therefore students are urged to avail themselves of this privilege and avoid the confusion and last minute rushing to secure good seats.

The Committee wishes to announce that there will be a meeting of the C. I. A. U. at the Union on Saturday morning Oct. 13th at 10 o'clock. McGill will be represented by Dr. A. S. Lamb, Professor J. Simpson and Quackenbush.

A request is being put forward by the Board that all teams taking part in college athletics adopt a fixed uniform to avoid confusion and to give an appearance of uniformity to all the players.

It is suggested that the managers of the various teams send in a copy of the outfit which they think will be most suitable for their particular branch of athletics and everything possible will be done to satisfy all. This is a most excellent idea as it does not look well to see a team wearing uniforms composed of variegated colours and odds and ends picked up here and there, when it is possible to have a fixed dress for all, thus eliminating the tendency for a large number to rival Joseph's coat of many colours. Teams should co-operate with the Board in carrying out this suggestion.

The field house at the Stadium will be used this winter as a gymnasium for the enthusiasts in Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing and it is hoped that everyone will avail themselves of this opportunity for improvement, under able coaching, in these branches of sport.

In conclusion it has been announced that the Stadium will be in A1 condition for the coming games.

Arrangements have been made this year for parking space for cars and a new score board has been erected for the occasion. The Athletic Board has seen to everything in this respect, the football squad is working overtime, and the rest is up to the students. All together now—lets "Beat Queens."

"POWERFULL AND TERRIBLE" OXONIAN'S VIEW OF HARVARD

"There is but one telephone in Oxford University," said Mr. K. K. M. Leys, exchange tutor from University College, Oxford, in his address last night at the Faculty Reception at the Harvard Union. "We have no lift anywhere in the college, and if there is such a thing as a card index I have never seen it." He said that one coming from as old a University as Oxford, the organization of an American college such as Harvard seemed "powerfull and rather terrible."

GLEE CLUB PRACTICE IN DIVINITY HALL

Members Must be on Hand 7 P. M.

RECRUITS WANTED

Extensive Programme for Year Planned.

Through a typographical error it was inadvertently stated in yesterday's "Daily" that the first practice of the Glee Club this season would be held on Thursday at 7.30 instead of 7.00 o'clock sharp.

The Committee wishes to make it known that all practices are at 7.00 o'clock sharp. On Monday the practice will be from 7.00 to 8.30 p. m., and on Thursday from 7.00 to 8.00 p. m. This is worthy of note as members are thereby enabled to attend all practices and yet conveniently keep any later appointments.

This latter item will be of interest to any first year men who contemplate signing up with the Glee Club this year, especially in view of the fact that the "pop rally" booked for tomorrow night is due to commence at 8.00 o'clock. As the meeting of the Glee Club tomorrow will be introductory, all will be able to get away in good time for the rally.

As was stated in yesterday's "Daily," it is planned to increase the Club membership to sixty voices. This does not mean that eighty would be too many. If a chap can sing at all he is eligible, and a knowledge of music is not at all necessary. All that is required is interest and attendance.

Mr. Harold Eustace Key, who so ably led the Club during the last two seasons, is to be conductor again this year. While over in England this summer, Mr. Key spent much time in the selection of suitable music for the Glee Club, and the result of this is the addition of some nineteen or twenty pieces to the Club's repertoire. A cursory glance at some of the new music is sufficient to convince one that there is a wonderful season ahead of the members, and all that is required in order to make it such, is new members. It is hoped that all will turn out on Thursday, every member with a new recruit, and everyone prepared to get away to a big start so that the next concert may be a howling success.

Remember therefore: Thursday at 7.00 o'clock sharp, in the Divinity Hall, 725 University Street.

REGISTRATION OF M.S.P.E. A RECORD

Changes in Staff and Executive Officers Elected.

The McGill School of Physical Education is now in full swing with a record enrolment of fifty-three students, an increase of eight over last year.

The School was established in 1912 as a summer course and in 1916 was extended to one year. The present two year course was established in 1919 and each year sees an increase in enrolment.

One change has been made in the staff, due to the resignation of Miss McCallum. This vacancy has been filled by Miss R. Harvey, a graduate of the Sargent School of Physical Education, who after serving for three years as physical director of the Bishop Strachan School came to Montreal as the head of the Department of Physical Education at the Y. W. C. A. This year the Undergraduates Society are making an addition to the library by subscribing to the leading magazines pertaining to Physical Education.

The following officers were elected by the School:—

Hon. President—Miss E. M. Cartwright.
President—M. Copping.
Vice-President—L. H. Bontson.
Secretary—B. Field.
Treasurer—M. Rutherford.

BAND EXCELLENT BUT TEN MORE MEN WANTED

The old Union roof nearly came off last night when the Band held a rip-roaring practice. They practiced a few marches and the new men that picked up the new music are to be congratulated on their ability. The appeal for recruits this year has received great attention but there is still room for more men that play in a brass band. A few other snare drummers with drums, flutes, clarinets and any other wind instruments that can be featured to the best advantage. This is the last call for recruits and in order that the bandsmen get in free the band must be the biggest ever. At least ten more men with their own instruments are wanted. Every man who owns an instrument suitable for a band should consider it a duty—a pleasant duty—to be with the band as it marches up University Street next Saturday, Practice at 4.30 today.

TRACK COACH INTERVIEWED AT STADIUM

Van Wagner Urges Men to Turn Out

"TRACK BULLETIN"

News from Varsity Shows
Strong Opposition in This Sport

In an interview with Coach Van Wagner yesterday afternoon, the "Daily" representative received considerable information in regard to the prospect for another successful track team. Of course at this early date it is very difficult to make any kind of definite statement, but it is nevertheless possible to judge fairly well the men who have been in track suits before. The hopes of the coach this season, is that a considerable number of men who are new to this form of sport will turn out in the very near future, as the track team is by no means overcrowded as yet. It is this class of men who will be the nucleus of the teams of the future seasons, even if they do not hit their stride this fall.

To show the difficulties with which the coach was faced when the practices commenced, it is sufficient to say that of the men who participated in the 100-yard, 440-yard, half-mile, mile and three-mile event in last year's meet, only two men, Legg and Wiggins, are left. It is evident that there is a splendid chance for new men to make the team in any of these events.

Of the events other than those mentioned in the above list, the only one at which many men are practising is the discus throw. The hurdles, high jump, pole vault, shot put and hammer throw are receiving the attention of a couple of candidates each, but more men are urged to turn out in view of the great opportunities they have of distinguishing themselves. The track work is not easy; this can be said of anything worthwhile. But it is healthy and invigorating, and for first and second year men it is an excellent way of receiving their attendance.

Some very good advice is given to all track candidates in a notice which has been posted at the field house. For the benefit of those who have not taken the trouble to read it, the substance of it is given herewith:

TRACK BULLETIN Practice Hours

Five days a week from 3-6, and on Saturday from 10-1. If you are unable to practice at these hours, do so whenever you can; the important thing is to practice daily.

Diet

Eat plain wholesome food and have your meals at regular hours.

Sleep

Sleep at least eight hours every night.

Bathing

The hot water supply is limited so please use no more than is necessary. As a matter of fact, too much warm water is weakening. Take a short warm shower and then a cold snap.

Equipment

The track club can only furnish a limited number of candidates. Men who make the team will be provided with a running suit and shoes, if necessary.

The manager and the coach are only too ready to listen to questions or suggestions. Advice is free.

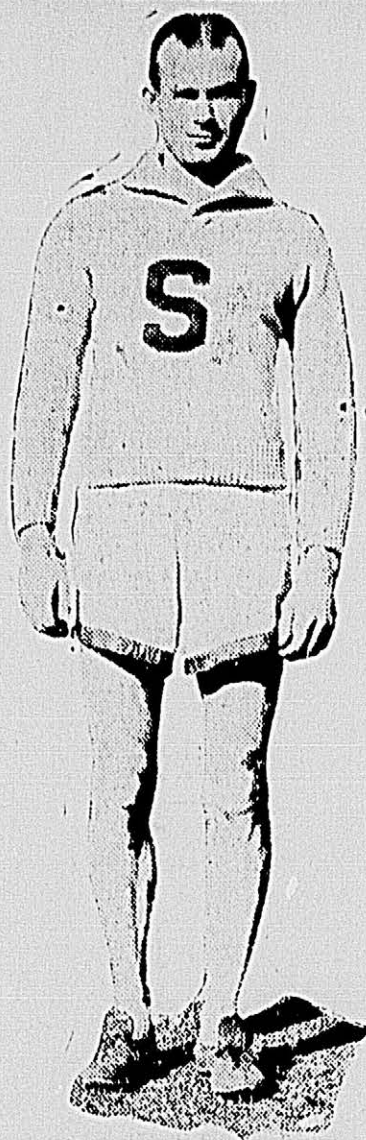

Consider yourself a member of the track club and work hard to make this year's team a success. If you know of any other men who would like to turn out for the track work, bring them along.

Varsity are reported to have a track team that is considerably more formidable than any which they have fielded in the past few years. They have in Vince a sprinter of championship calibre, and many of the stronger members of last year's team are still with them. This fact makes it imperative that undergraduates should back the McGill track coach and his men to the fullest. Their very best way of showing their interest is by their attendance at the track practices in uniform.

NORTHROP FIELD WILL NOW SEAT 27,000 FANS

With the opening of the football season at hand, the report coming in from Joe Rath, chief caretaker of Northrop Field, assures fans and players of Minnesota that everything will be in tip-top shape for the opening game. New seating bleachers have been put in at both ends of the field to take the place of the old stands at which fans were forced to watch the games from a standing position. These new additions will increase the capacity of the Northrop Field to 27,000, an increase of almost 5,000 over last fall. The field has been transformed into a soft blanket of clover with the recent planting of new seed and the removal of all weeds by the corps of caretakers. The Harvard field has also been covered with a new crop of clover, making the ground soft for the varsity candidates to practice on.

VAN WAGNER

Coach of McGill's Track Men.

HARRIER MEN TO BEGIN TRAINING

Five New Trophies Presented for Competition.

The Harrier Club has been fortunate this year in being presented with five handsome trophies to be competed for in the Interfaculty race. These splendid cups and two medals are to be won outright by the first five men to cross the line in the annual five and a half mile Interfaculty event on Saturday, October 27th. These trophies, which have been made by J. R. Gaunt Co., Silversmiths, can be seen on display at the firm's store, opposite Mappin and Webb's, St. Catherine Street, West.

In addition to the above race the Intercollegiate fixture should be attractive to all long distance men in the University. This race will take place at Toronto early in November. Communication has been entered into with Harvard also in the hope that a long distance event may be arranged with the cross country team of that University.

Much interest has already been displayed in the Harriers since the opening of the season. "Tex" Wiggins, the star of last season's long distance events, is training consistently and gives promise of making all competitors at least work for the honours.

There is still, however, plenty of room for any man who can run the five and a half mile course whether he has previous training or not. Freshmen and others who have not been out before need not hesitate to report at the Stadium for long distance work. They will, in fact, be heartily welcomed to the Club. The early practices will be easy, gradually working up in speed and distance to the regular Stadium and Mountain course of five and a half miles. New-comers should report to the Captain, T. Kerr, or to Coach Van Wagner at the Stadium any afternoon before five o'clock.

ARTS SOHPOMORES ELECT EXECUTIVE

Graeme Gorrie President of '26.

Graeme Gorrie was elected president of Arts '26 at a meeting of the class held yesterday afternoon. Gorrie, who last year was class treasurer is also a prominent figure on the cricketer. J. Murphy was elected vice-president, after a close contest with F. M. Godine, who last year occupied that position. C. L. Copland succeeds M. Doushless as secretary while W. Shepherd was elected treasurer by acclamation. T. H. Harris who last year acted as class scribe continues in that capacity this term.

The meeting approved of the suggestion of the Students' Council that all freshmen be compelled to wear distinctive headgear and promised their full support in the matter.

Several suggestions as to additional regalia to be worn by the incoming class were also discussed, and it was moved that all freshmen be required to wear their trousers in their socks, and to adorn them with a flowing green ribbon.

The class executive will complete the list of freshmen regulations sometime this morning, and will take particular care that they are adhered to in all respects.

SUNDAY EXCURSION FOR MCGILL S.C.A.

Students to be Guests of Friends at Beloeil.

The McGill Student Christian Association will launch the first of their activities for the college year with an excursion to Beloeil on Sunday next. All McGill men who care to attend will be the guests of friends of the Association at Beloeil for the day.

It is felt that there are many students in the University unacquainted with the objects and aims of the Student Christian Movement, and this will be an unrivalled opportunity for such men to get in touch with the movement, as well as affording everyone who attends an excellent chance to become acquainted with their fellow students under slightly different conditions from those prevailing at the university.

The two main objects before the gathering will be first, to consider the position the association is in at the beginning of the year, and secondly to form plans for the coming session.

In addition to these two, the party will probably hear some report from the forty McGill people who attended the Munkoka Conference.

What meetings are held will be adjourned by 4.00 p.m., and the Beloeil people will then be hosts of the McGill men at supper. In the evening all will join in the students' service, at which the Rev. Alex. Kerr of the American Presbyterian Church will preach. A students' orchestra is being secured for the occasion, and will render sacred music during the service.

The party will leave the Bonaventure station at 8.30 a.m., Sunday, October 7th, arriving at Beloeil at 9.30 a.m. A special McGill car will be attached to the train, as well as to the 8.23 p.m. train by which the party will make the return trip to town.

Chem. Prof. Rack, what does "A" stand for?

George: Just a minute, I've got it on the tip of my tongue.
C. P.: Well, spit it out—It's Arsenic.

OFFICERS FOR YEAR ELECTED BY R.V.C. '25

R. V. C. '25 held their first meeting of the session yesterday at one o'clock. The chief business of the meeting was the election of officers. E. Baker was re-elected to the presidency which testifies to the efficiency with which she performed her duties last year. The other officers for the year are:—

Vice-President—V. Cameron.
Secretary-Treasurer—M. Sangster.
The president called attention to the S. C. A. excursion to Beloeil next Sunday when the Association will hold its setting-up conference for the year. A cordial invitation from the S. C. A. was extended to all who might desire to take part in this conference.
